

THE BROKER'S TABLE

3 FREE MORNINGS

The Faith & Money Devotional

Three mornings of scripture, reflection, and one small money move.

The Table Is Set

LUKE 14:16-17

God's invitation to provision is already extended. Most of us hover at the door, anxious we don't belong at a conversation about money. You do. Wealth-building is not greed; it is stewardship of what you have been trusted with. Today, simply accept the invitation. Sit down.

Today's move: write one sentence on what would change if you believed you were meant to build, not just survive.

Father, quiet the fear that keeps me from the table. Teach me to steward well. Amen.

First Fruits, Not Leftovers

PROVERBS 3:9

Giving first is a posture before it is a percentage. When generosity comes off the top, it declares that God, not the balance, is the source. Leftover giving trains the heart toward scarcity; first-fruit giving trains it toward trust.

Today's move: set up your giving to happen first this month, automated or at the top of the list.

Lord, let me give from the front of the harvest, not the crumbs. Amen.

The Quiet Power of Enough

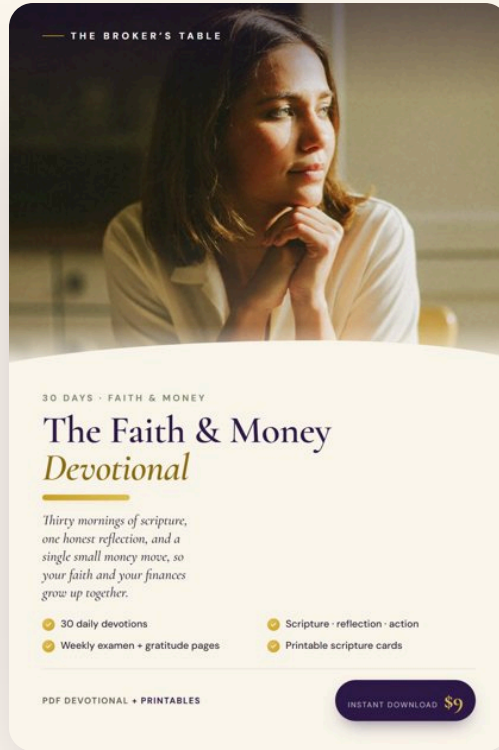

| 1 TIMOTHY 6:6-8

Contentment is not the enemy of ambition; it is its foundation. A heart at peace can build without frenzy and give without fear. You will not out-earn discontent; you will only outgrow it.

| Today's move: name three things you already have that you once prayed for. Thank God for each by name.

God, teach me the freedom of enough, so I build from peace, not panic. Amen.
